Stricter checks on hospital staff after terrorist arrests

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

STAFF at Milton Keynes Hospital are to face tighter security checks than ever before following the recent terrorist attacks.

It follows a call from a hospital trust board member for assurances that staff had been checked since the latest attempted bomb attacks in London and Glasgow.

Moves will see long term staff re-checked first with the aim to eventually cover the whole health workforce.

It has also been revealed that staff have undergone specific training to spot potential applicants carrying fake identification.

Eight of the suspects arrested following the threats had links to the health service. Seven of those arrested were doctors or medical students.

Prime minister Gordon Brown ordered an immediate review of NHS recruitment practice.

At a Trust board meeting at Milton Keynes Hospital last Wednesday, non-executive director Graham Ellis called for assurance that the hospital had checked its staff records since the security threat.

Speaking at the meeting Director of human resources, Chanelle Wilkinson said: "Our aim is to re-check people on a three-year basis and to start with we are concentrating on areas where we haven't looked for a long time.

"There are people who have been here a long time so now we will look at them too.

"We should aim to cover all the workforce."

The hospital screens potential employees in line with Criminal Records Bureau guidance, using CRB checks, health checks, professional identification numbers and references.

In addition, it has adopted its own policy by which staff are checked every three years.

NHS Employers, which represents health trusts, said that the NHS checked applicants' clinical and linguistic ability rather than their political or extremist affiliations and did not think this should be changed.

Ms Wilkinson added: "I believe we satisfy a very high standard of checks.

"Just looking at where people come from doesn't tell you anything.

"I'm aware that if passports have been falsified then they can be very difficult to spot but we're doing everything we can to check people and their identification.

"But we can't control all of the information we are provided with and there's a lot of fake ID out there that's very good.

"We are working closely with the Home Office."

She said that staff have undergone training to spot fake identification.

Chief executive Jill Rodney said: "We are as tight as we can be."

The Home Office is expected to provide guidelines for new checks that will mean sponsors of skilled migrant workers will be asked to run their own background checks on them.

The new terrorism minister Sir Alan West will carry out the NHS review.

ROLLERSKATING fans mourning the loss of the city's beloved skating rink have a place to share their memories.

Skating forums are calling for former Rollers regulars to sign up to swap stories, submit articles and send in photos.

The rink, which enjoyed cult status with regulars flocking to it religiously each week, is living on in spirit.

Skaters are using two forums, Roller Groove and Rollers Days, to stay in touch and find out about skating events elsewhere in the UK.

Based at Denbigh North Leisure complex, Rollers was opened in the summer of 1988 and closed in 2001 to make way for the Dons stadium which has come into use this week.

Laura Martin, a local member of Rollers Days, said: "It's brilliant, loads of people still stay in touch and go to all night skates elsewhere. People are now around 30-years-old and they bring their wives and kids skating with them."

The website was set up by Stuart Breedon, an ex-Rollers skate steward, in 2005.

He said: "When it closed it was like leaving school, you lose touch with all your friends. I started it just to show people a few photos, and I thought one or two might come along. Then loads turned up and we ended up saying 'Let's go skating together again'."

Andy Cation, aka Vin, used to DJ at Rollers and now works with Roller Groove.

He said: "As the UK's fastest growing skating website we would like to invite all those that used to skate at Rollers to join our forum to swap stories and to submit articles and photos."

Homeless Daniel back on streets

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A HOMELESS man who was rushed to hospital last week is due back on the streets today.

Daniel Issayu - of African origin - has been living on a bench outside Sainsbury's in central Milton Keynes for almost two years.

Last Monday he was taken to Milton Keynes General Hospital with a bacterial skin infection.

But now he has been released – with nowhere to go.

Volunteer Dean Burchall and his colleague Ann Cooper went searching for him last week after he failed to turn up at the Open Door homeless drop-in centre in Conniburrow for several weeks.

Daniel is from Switzerland and only speaks French.

Last year Mr Burchall wrote to MPs and political parties begging them to help Daniel.

Mr Burchall said: "Apparently social services cannot help him due to him having no fixed abode, and likewise with the housing department. There is one nice lady in the housing department trying to communicate with Switzerland to get some information about Daniel.

"This guy is so happy and loving, even with all the crap in his life and the position he is in."

Now the volunteers are appealing to the public to see if anyone can help.

Ann Cooper said: "There must be someone out there who can do something to help."

Mr Burchall said: "It would be wonderful if there was some sort of help that one of your readers could offer Daniel in the way of shelter or funding for shelter.

"Now he can no longer stay by Sainsbury's it will be hard for him to get food, and he receives no benefits whatsoever."

The hospital originally wanted to release him on Friday with a five-day supply of antibiotics, but due to concerns about his ability to take them properly, they decided to keep him in.

Volunteers have rallied around to find him some new clothes and a new pair of shoes.

They have lodged a Home Office appeal for help for Daniel, who has been homeless since he was dumped by his parents at 13-years-old.

■ Can you help?
If you can contact Mr Burchall on dean.burchell@btinternet.com.

Early hours sex assault in open market

A 22-YEAR-OLD woman was sexually assaulted at the open market in the city centre following a night out.

The victim left The Nexus nightclub and was walking towards the market area in Midsummer Boulevard at 4.20am on Sunday.

A black man approached her in a secluded area, pushed her up against a post and sexually assaulted her.

The woman's screams for help were heard by a passer-by who ran over and chased the man off, across the car park at the Point complex.

DI Ray Summers said: "The woman was left deeply shaken and distressed. The description of the man is very clear and I would like to appeal to anyone who may have seen the man in or around The Nexus nightclub, in Midsummer Boulevard or in the market area, to get in touch."

The man is described as stocky, 5ft 8ins and in his twenties. He has a 'number two' haircut and was wearing a white baggy shirt with a black line around the neck, baggy flared jeans, black trainers with big black laces and a black belt with a silver buckle.

Anyone with information can call DI Summers on 08458 505505.

Family home trashed by burglar

A FAMILY home was trashed in a burglary where messages such as 'Die!' were scrawled on the walls.

A mother of two, who was living at Seaton Grove, Broughton, arrived back at her three-bedroom house to find the damage on Monday night.

Her gas had been turned on, candles had been lit and messages had been written on the walls.

Police were called to the scene at 8.30pm.

A 36-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of burglary and was still being questioned by police yesterday afternoon (Tuesday).

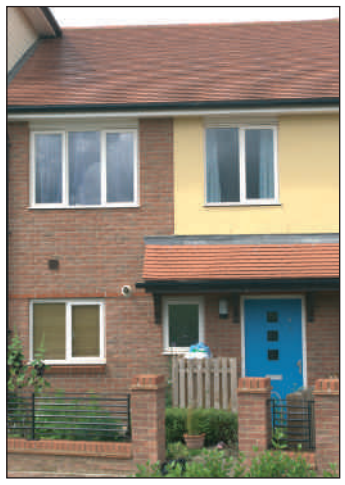
A neighbour said: "To be honest with you, I am really scared. If her house had gone up in flames, mine would have been affected as well."

It is believed the woman and her daughters have now been moved to a safe house.

The family moved there in October 2005.

A neighbour, who did not want to be named, said: "The house has been boarded up with the metal shutters like you see in the ghetto.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said yesterday: "We arrested a man on suspicion of burglary and he is still being questioned by detectives."



It's big, it's bold, it's the Pinnacle

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THIS is the future of office working in Milton Keynes.

Work is soon to begin on the £60m, 200,000 sq ft scheme known as Pinnacle MK based at Midsummer Boulevard.

It is the city's biggest office development in 25 years.

Regional developer Hampton Brook, in a joint venture partnership with clients' of Goodman Property Investors, are behind the project.

The development has already attracted two international companies which have taken almost half of the scheme between them.

Ian Jackson, a director of developer Hampton Brook, said: "This has been a complicated scheme involving a number of different parties. Completion of the site purchase from English Partnerships and the two pre-lets occurred simultaneously only last week."

The building design is being constructed to achieve a BRE Energy Efficient 'Excellence' Rating and incorporates 180 underground car parking spaces and 60 secure bicycle bays.

John Lewis, regional director at English Partnerships Eastern England and Milton Keynes, commented: "This is a flagship office development for Milton Keynes.

"From the size and quality of the build to the initial tenants, the project demonstrates the offering Milton Keynes can give to global companies and consolidates its reputation as a dominant regional centre for business.

The developers hope to have the building completed in May 2009.

Further opportunities to acquire space at the early stages of marketing are available in suites from approximately 10,000 square foot upwards.

The joint letting agents are Bidwells and CBRE.

Traffic warden's instructions just the ticket

A COMPANY owner claims his employee was given a penalty notice just minutes after parking where a traffic warden told him to.

Sheriden Burkitt, owner of emergency drainage clearance firm Cut Services, has complained to Milton Keynes Parking following the incident just after noon on July 13.

The employee says he arrived at NatWest Bank on North Eighth Street in central Milton Keynes to carry out an emergency job, but struggled to find a safe location to park close enough to work from his van.

He asked NCP parking attendant number 6168 where he could stop, and was instructed to park around the corner, but when he left the vehicle for a few minutes, the attendant issued a ticket.

Now Mr Burkitt, whose company is on Willow Farm, Bedford, is calling for the traffic warden to be disciplined and re-trained.

Mr Burkitt said: "I always tell my employees that if they're having trouble finding a space, to speak to a traffic warden first. He did this. I am not impressed with the very unprofessional manner in which the attendant dealt with my employee. I thought it was completely disgraceful."

Now Mr Burkitt has appealed against the parking ticket and has also contacted trading standards.

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council, which controls parking in conjunction with the NCP, said: "We don't think the driver actually parked where he was advised to, but we appreciate there has been a misunderstanding here, and as a gesture of goodwill we have cancelled this ticket."

Trying times for rugby-led 'community' park

SIR – I was pleased to see your balanced coverage of the planning application for the Emerson Valley sports development.

The project, however, is not for a rugby club; it is for a multi-sport facility which will be managed by the rugby club.

The residents' action group has expressed understandable concerns which the club and the council have sought to address.

Some of the fears expressed, (including the presence of 200 cars on match days and drunken behaviour) have no foundation in fact.

The attitude of the residents' action group is summed up by the statement made to MK NEWS that: 'this is not a big estate so 340 people are not in the minority here'.

In fact 340 people represent about three per cent of the population of Emerson Valley (10,756 at the 2001 census).

The rugby club is, and will continue to be, an active and vibrant part of the Milton Keynes volunteer and sporting community.

We have a large and active mini and junior section working with boys and girls from the age of six upwards.

In addition we have welcomed local schools and other youth organisations to the club for training sessions and, in partnership with the RFU, we have provided training at local schools.

The club has a vested interest in welcoming the residents of Emerson Valley into our club as players, members and parents.

We have been open and honest at all times in our dealings with EVRAG and we remain available to them should they wish to discuss any of their concerns.

Stuart Benzie
MKRUFC

■ SIR – What annoys me most is MK Council's pretence that this is a community development when in fact it will be a privately run rugby club .

In all aspects of dealing with MKC and MKRFC, there has been an utter contempt and arrogance towards the local community and residents.

This is borne out in the plans to have no residents involved in the management of the club.

This is greatly worrying the residents as decisions will be made after the planning stage that they will have no involvement in, such as floodlights being on late at night and drinking till two or three in the morning.

These plans need to be looked at again. What is required is a smaller but more inclusive development that fits in with the local community. This is what was originally proposed for this site with a mixture of sports and a small pavilion.

We are certainly not against the park being used for sports, what we object to is the fact it will be a privately run exclusive club, and not a community facility.

Name and address supplied

Housing balancing act

SIR – In reply to Cllr John Bint's letter of last week, I would ask him if he has the balance right.

The council must be spending a fortune every week on bed and breakfast accommodation for the homeless.

We have a housing crisis with people without a place to live and people still living with their parents without a hope.

When I came to Bletchley I spent five years in a council house then bought my first property and freed that council house up for somebody else.

Now a lot of that housing stock has gone due to the sale of council houses.

My first house was bought on two and half times my annual income and that same home would now be eight times my annual earnings.

The truth is some people will now never aspire to owning their own home.

Even the shared ownership scheme has it's downside with premiums being charged and the burden of both a mortgage and rent.

More and more houses are disappearing into the buy to let market with possible housing benefit implications.

Building 'council' houses again has to be the way forward and that is where the balance is needed.

B Spencer
Wordsworth Drive, Bletchley

■ SIR – When a former Prime Minister, Harold Macmillan, was asked what things troubled him, his reply was: 'events, dear boy, events'.

And it is 'events' that have overtaken Cllr Bint's 'solution' to Milton Keynes' housing crisis.

A generation ago, a Conservative government began the selling-off of tens of thousands of council houses. Now the children of that generation cannot afford to buy a house or get a council house.

If house prices had risen with general inflation since 1980, the average price would be £60,000.

Of course, people who live in council houses do actually own their housing, in common, and elect councillors to look after and fairly distribute housing on behalf of the people.

The real solution to the housing crisis – as the Government has now recognised – is social rented housing. The private sector has clearly failed to provide housing, driven as it is, by the profit motive.

MK councillors should be pressing the Government for the release of the revenue needed to build good quality council housing, built by a council direct labour department so as to eliminate any profiteering.

Alongside this the current housing should be speedily upgraded.

Finally, councillors should remember that 12,000 Milton Keynes tenants have twice voted against the privatisation of our homes.

John Pinkerton
Woodhouse Court,Stantonbury Fields

Council drop the ball with 'too little, too late' talks

SIR – As long term residents we've enjoyed unrestricted use of Emerson Valley District Park for eleven years.

We've seen the park develop into a much-used, tranquil, green space in the middle of a densely populated estate.

Though we do dread the noise and intrusion created by packs of rugby players and spectators and we do not want a licensed bar open all weekend and each night, our main concern is that our park is to be given over to a single minority interest so that we, all our neighbours and their children will no longer be able to use it at weekends and most evenings.

We all knew when we moved here that sports facilities were planned for the park, but we were promised tennis and bowls – inclusive sports for both sexes and all ages.

Rugby is played and supported by an overwhelmingly male community so it will exclude at least half of the residents. Baseball, (hastily added to the plans), is also a minority sport for which there are already facilities in MK.

How did the council expect residents to react when it was revealed by the rugby club that plans were well under way to hand over almost exclusive use of a community park to them?

How many of the 'almost 100' letters of support are from people who actually live in Emerson Valley?

Consultation has been too little and too late, the 'revised' plans do not meet our concerns. At the hastily arranged, barely advertised and badly organised 'consultation' meetings, we were told that local schools, desperate for playing fields would be offered use of the pitches, yet we learn that school playing fields are being sold off by the council.

We were told the clubhouse would be a much-needed venue for public hire, yet we have a community centre within sight of the proposed private members' clubhouse and the larger River Valley Centre is nearby.

The traffic survey is flawed, evening usage predicted by the rugby club is not accurate.

The whole thing has the whiff of a done deal with attempts to justify it failing to convince those most affected.

Handing over a community asset to a private members' club run for profit just doesn't seem like democracy to us.

The residents' website is www.emersonvalleypark.co.uk

Paul and Di Oliver
Greenside Hill, Emerson Valley

■ SIR – I write in reference to the recent letters concerning affordable housing.

I often find people misunderstand the difference between the terms 'affordable rented housing' and 'council housing'.

Anyone working full time in Tesco can afford to privately rent a flat so why do we need more council housing?

Council housing, subsidised by the hard working taxpayers of Milton Keynes, should be reserved for the neediest in society – where neediest is defined as elderly, disabled, and not 'job seeking'.

If we want to make housing more affordable it has to be more available.

More council housing won't solve the problem of people being unable to buy – in fact, it will make matters worse by driving up prices.

We need a greater number of shared ownership properties built with people able to buy the largest share they can afford (not just 30 per cent) and for those who want to rent, there's always plenty of property available.

The answer to the housing problem is certainly not to vote for a crazy Liberal Democrat plan whereby only five per cent of new housing becomes sharedownership and 25 per cent becomes council housing.

Peek at the beaks

SIR – The closing date for people to apply to become a magistrate is fast approaching – August 31.

In Milton Keynes, anyone considering applying will have their last chance this year to find out more by attending an open morning on Tuesday, August 7 to see the courts operating, in the company of an experienced magistrate, who will be pleased to talk to you about becoming a magistrate, and what is involved.

Places are limited and must be booked in advance on 07947 426 619, or by e-mail to mkmic@hotmail.co.uk

If you are an adult British citizen, and can demonstrate that you have intelligence, common sense, integrity and the capacity to act fairly, we would be pleased to meet you.

If appointed after the selection process, you will be fully trained, and then required to sit approximately once a fortnight in court.

Employers must give time off for these duties: if the time is unpaid, a loss of earnings allowance can be claimed from the courts service.

We need to recruit about a dozen new magistrates in Milton Keynes each year, and so we are very keen to meet people who are thinking of applying and to give them all the information they need.

£30,000 probe into village flash foods

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A £30,000 investigation has been launched into the recent floods in Stoke Goldington.

As reported in MK NEWS, homes in the village were swamped by flash floods twice in a month after heavy rain burst the banks of two brooks which meet just west of the High Street and flow under it in a culvert.

On Monday, July 2 residents from ten homes in the High Street, Tathall End, and Weston Underwood were evacuated to the village hall after the second spate of floods hit the area.

Cabinet member in charge of emergency planning, cllr Douglas McCall, said he has given the go-ahead for a major technical investigation to find out the cause of the flooding.

"The council itself is not in charge of water courses but as a planning authority we are having to deal with the results, so we want to make sure everyone is doing what they should be doing," he said.

"The reason it will cost £30,000 is because we will get technical consultants in to investigate what caused the flooding.

"There could be all sorts of things that may have caused it, many of which are nothing to do with the council.

"We want to identify the issues and take them up with the relevant authority."

The council are also planning an internal inquiry to look at how they respond to similar events in the future.

"Emergencies like this don't happen all the time, so now that we have been able to practice our emergency planning we can look at how we might improve procedures in the future," Cllr McCall added.

Not welly good: One resident of Stoke Goldington steps off the pavement

At the recent floods council staff delivered nearly 400 sandbags to Stoke Goldington, carried out road closures, opened the village hall to shelter residents, and worked with other agencies including the emergency services.

The council has spent nearly £100,000 on dealing with the aftermath of the floods across the borough to date.

However, Milton Keynes has been overlooked in the first round of Government handouts to flood hit local authorities, announced last Friday (July 13)

Last week MP for North East Milton Keynes, Mark Lancaster, wrote to Hilary Benn, Secretary of State for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs, and tabled parliamentary questions seeking assurances that Milton Keynes and Stoke Goldington would not be overlooked.

"I'm concerned that there is a feeling in Government that small rural communities in Milton Keynes don't need any help," he said.

"The reality of course is just the opposite as Parish Councils such as Stoke Goldington have less ability to deal with major infrastructure changes than large cities such as Hull."

Convicted councillor back as the boss of neighbourhood group

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A WOMAN punched in the face by the chairman of an anti-crime group has branded it a 'disgrace' because its members reinstated him minutes after he resigned.

Convicted former councillor Tony Mabbott was re-instated as Neighbourhood Action Group (NAG) chairman on Thursday night.

Mabbott was found guilty of smacking and punching her in the face outside Knowles Middle School in Bletchley in June 2006.

He was fined a total of £905 including compensation and costs at Milton Keynes Magistrate's Court on June 21.

Police officers, parish councillors, Milton Keynes councillors and council officers made the decision to reinstate him after he handed in his resignation.

Now his victim, nurse Linda Stockbridge. has branded the move as 'absolutely disgraceful'.

The NAG is designed to improve community safety and reduce crime and disorder.

Mrs Stockbridge said on Friday speaking out for the first time: "I think this is absolutely disgraceful. It's hypocritical. What are the people around him thinking?

"Not once have these people condemned him for what he's done, and now they've re-instated him. I find it unbelievable."

The NAG, which covers Granby Court, Central Bletchley and Fenny Stratford ,is run by partners including Milton Keynes Community Safety Partnership, Thames Valley Police and Milton Keynes Council.

Last night Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council was due to disassociate itself from the NAG until the situation had been resolved to its satisfaction.

The NAG aims to involve local communities to tackle a variety of social problems in each area.

Mabbott says that after he offered his resignation he left the room while NAG members discussed it.

He said: "I don't know the details of the discussion, as I offered the group my resignation and left the room while they considered the matter.

"The NAG is an expressly non-political body. We are meant to leave our labels behind when we carry out NAG business.

"It is a shame that some town councillors are treating this issue as a political football which goes against the spirit of the NAG's constitution."

Bletchley and Fenny Stratford supported another town councillor who was convicted of drink driving in 2005. Chairman Jan Lloyd wrote to the Standards Board expressing her belief that 'members felt that he had been dealt with appropriately through the legal system and determined that they wished for no further action to be taken against him'.

Now they are calling for a clause precluding a convicted person, whatever the conviction, to be a part of the constitution of all NAGs.

The NAG's policy on criminal conviction states that a person cannot be a member of the NAG if he has been convicted and imprisoned for over three months without the option of a fine, five years before the election or after the election.

Replica of code-cracking computer goes on show

BY ROB GIBSON

rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

Bombe's away: Volunteer Chris Tarry with the early type of computer that he has worked on for five years at Bletchley Park – now it's the centrepiece of a code-cracking display

THE first replica Bombe machine based on those that cracked the Nazi Enigma codes during the Second World War has been unveiled at Bletchley Park.

Military historians credited the British Enigma code-breaking operation with reducing the war by two years but the machines were destroyed immediately after, under the direct orders of Winston Churchill, to maintain their secret role.

Now the Bombe, one of the earliest forms of computer, will form the centrepiece of a dedicated display.

The replica was unveiled by the Duke of Kent, patron of the British Computer Society, yesterday to mark 50 years of the organisation, which represents 60, 000 IT professionals across the UK.

Bletchley Park director Simon Greenish said: "It's a unique part of British history and there's nowhere else you can see this.

"The Bombe made a significant difference to the outcome of the war and you could probably rank it up there with the Spitfire."

The public will be able to imagine what it was like to work on the noisy code-cracking machines, thanks to 12 years of dedicated work by a team of enthusiasts to rebuild the Bombe.

Around 4,000 original 1943 drawings were studied in order to rebuild the machine, which weighs 650kg and uses 12 miles of wire.

To commemorate the efforts of the machines' Womens Royal Navy operatives the BCS also recorded a number of surviving women veterans' stories for a website resource for school history lessons.

These describe the relentless timetable set up at Bletchley to help cryptographers decode more than 3,000 enemy messages each day and also give a vivid insight into the women's life during the war.

MILTON KEYNES RESTAURANT OF THE YEAR 2007

MKWEB WWW.MKWEB.CO.UK | Kimbells solicitors a step ahead | MKNEWS

The winners

Spoilt for choice: Richard Fagan with some of the nominations

THE winners in our Restaurant of the Year competition have been announced.

The competition organised by MK NEWS, MK Web and Kimbells Solicitors was established for the first time this year to recognise outstanding quality and service in restaurants across the area.

The competition received more than 8,000 separate votes over a ten week period from readers of MK NEWS, visitors to MK Web and from diners completing feedback forms in restaurants across the area.

The finalists were The Crooked Billet at Newton Longeville, The Dragon Boat in Central Milton Keynes,The Taipan in Theatre District, Robinsons in Newport Pagnell and the Dipalee Indian restaurant in Buckingham,

Our expert panel was made up of Richard Fagan, food service development manager, MLC Marketing Services, Richard Reynolds, new product development chef, Meadowbrook Bakery and David Tyler, managing director, People for Business Limited.

The judges visited each restaurant together incognito to painstakingly choose the Best Business Lunch restaurant, Best Family restaurant, Best Service restaurant and to also pick our overall Restaurant of the Year for MK 2007 from the shortlist.

OVERALL WINNER:

The Crooked Billet

The judges' opinion was that the restaurant had the best food and wine choices. Richard Fagan was particularly impressed that the food was named and traceable and was clearly freshly prepared on the premises.

At a lunchtime the sandwich meals were also a cut above the usual offering ie: whole sardines on toast and melt-in-the-mouth pulled pork with home-made chutney. The chips were fantastic as well.

The general consensus was that it was a place you would want to go back to.

BEST BUSINESS LUNCH AND BEST FAMILY VENUE

Taipan

This was a tough choice for the judges as they felt that Taipan and the Dipalee both offered excellent opportunities for a business lunch. They ticked all of the boxes in that the surroundings were pleasant, service was good and the food was above average and both kept within the rough guide of one hour that the judges thought reasonable for a business lunch.

What eventually swayed the balance was that the service at Taipan was more discreet.

■ Taipan received the highest number of public votes for family venue by a long way.

The judges agreed that the public vote should be the decider in this instance. As none of the short-listed restaurants were 'family' restaurants this seemed the fairest way.

BEST SERVICE

Dipalee

This rated very highly in terms of ambiance, food and value but particularly for the service.

Nothing was too much trouble and the waiting staff went out of their way to make sure that we felt comfortable at our table by putting another one alongside so that we could spread out.

When the voucher was produced showing that we were the mystery shoppers, they got the chef out of the kitchen for a photo, the owner appeared and they were generally excited and delighted.

PRIZE DRAW WINNER

Hilary Heyworth

A draw was also made of all the people who had nominated restaurants for the awards.

The winner was Hilary Heyworth from Beachampton who wins a meal for two at The Crooked Billet.

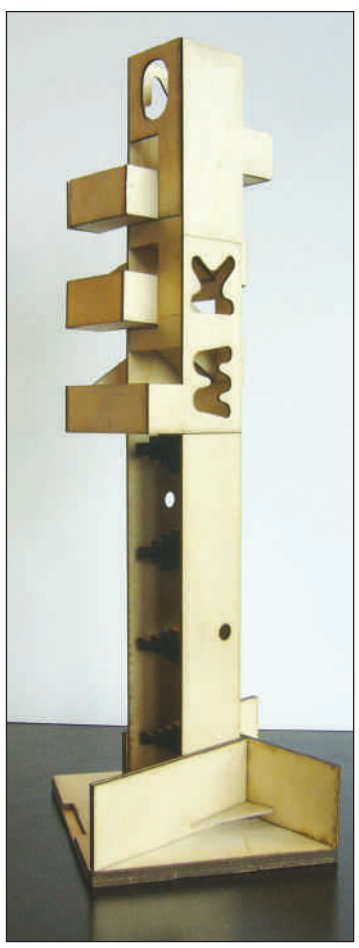
A lorry, lorry coffee at Forty Tower's caff



COFFEE lovers will soon be able to enjoy their favourite drink in one of the strangest places in the city.

Milton Keynes Gallery has announced the installation of MK Forty Tower, a temporary artwork commissioned by the gallery from de Rijke Marsh Morgan Architects (dRMM) to celebrate Milton Keynes's 40th anniversary.

The tower, which opens to the public on August 4, will be a free-standing structure instead of being braced against the gallery facade. This means the tower can be easily re-erected in any location in the city.

The striking, 19 metre high structure, made of 162mm thick cross-laminated timber, will dominate the square in front of Milton Keynes Gallery, rising above the theatre and gallery's distinctive roof-canopy.

Visitors can climb its 101 wooden steps to reach a platform showing panoramic views of the city and the landscape beyond. Admission will be free and the tower will be open during normal gallery opening hours.

After climbing the tower visitors will be able to refresh themselves in possibly one of the most unique coffee bars in the city, housed in a 7x3 metre lime green metal shipping container, which has been temporarily installed by the gallery in Margaret Powell Square, beside the tower.

The MK40 Coffee Bar which will be run by 'Sublime Coffee serving Fair Trade coffee.

The gallery has commissioned the artist Richard Woods to clad the interior of the container coffee bar with one of his signature, hand-printed logo patterns. The artist's mock timber repeat pattern in black in white, offers a visually arresting backdrop to this fully functioning coffee bar.

It is made using a traditional woodcut technique and printed in domestic gloss paint,

The Coffee Bar will be open during gallery hours.

Opening slightly earlier than the tower is the exhibition dRMM:The Culture of Construction which runs from Saturday until October.

Just popped in: The Duke of Kent greets a resident of the Lovat Fields Village retirement home

Multi-stop city trip for Duke of Kent

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE Duke of Kent visited the city yesterday.

First up on his royal rota was the new Walnuts School site in Hazeley where five schools showcased their achievements in the Academy for Sustainable Communities project.

Then it was on to Bletchley Park to unveil the first replica of the Bombe machine, used to crack the German Enigma code during the Second World War before ending his trip at the city's new multi-million pound retirement home, Lovat Fields Village.

The village, at Willen, was officially opened by him where he unveiled a commemorative plaque.

The ASC project has given support to five schools in new communities in the city, including Christ the Sower, Oxley Park Primary, The Walnuts, The Hazeley and Oakgrove.

It is a way of ensuring that sustainable communities' funds continue to provide benefits for communities.

Milton Keynes, as the fastest growing city in the UK, is leading the way in ensuring that new and emerging communities are sustainable by involving schools in their development.

Leading on the project, Rosemary Clarke from Global Education Milton Keynes, an educational resource centre supported by MK Council, said: "It was really important for us to involve primary, secondary and special schools in developing their community.

"The results have been fantastic and schools have looked at a wide range of issues such as traffic congestion, the provision of play facilities, the redways and improving communications within the community."

The duke saw the new sensory garden and allotment the children at The Walnuts School have created, and learnt how the pupils at Oxley Park Primary School have successfully managed to change the plans for Redways to include safe access to the school.

Films and presentations about a range of sustainable projects at all the schools were shown.

Cabinet member with responsibility for children and young people, Cllr Sandra Clark said: "It is amazing to see the big difference the pupils at these schools have made.

"With lots of new communities emerging in Milton Keynes, it is important that children have a big input into how their community is run.

"I am sure that this work will impress HRH The Duke of Kent and will really put Milton Keynes on the map."

Chief cxecutive of MK Council, John Best, added: "It takes a lot of hard work to set up new communities and a lot to keep them thriving.

"Schools are often the heart of our new communities, and it is great to see the children taking responsibility and getting involved in projects that have an impact on the area where they live."

Life in the fast lanes

OLYMPIC hopefuls had a chance to put a new athletics track through its paces at the weekend.

The new £420,000 track at Stantonbury Stadium is the base for the Marshall Milton Keynes Athletics Club (MKAAC)

It reopened on Saturday and is up to national standards with its new running surface expanded from six to eight lanes.

On Saturday a double fixture involving both the club's A and B teams in the Southern Men's League took place followed by a match in the Eastern Young Athletes League involving six or seven clubs on Sunday.

Together with its partners English Partnership, Stantonbury Campus and MKAAC, Milton Keynes Council part-financed the project to the tune of £187,500

Richard Davis, council sports development coordinator, said: "We now have an athletics track that is up to national standards and we look forward to attracting good quality athletes to compete in the stadium."

Cllr Euan Henderson, council cabinet member responsible for leisure, sports and community services, said: "This is another feather in the cap for Milton Keynes. We now have a high quality athletics track that will help young talent thrive and increase the chances of our fine young MK athletes taking part in the London Olympics."

Spurned lover in Job Centre attack

A FORKLIFT truck driver attacked his partner's child outside a Job Centre when she refused to take him back.

Wayne Allen, 42, of St John's Road, Bletchley, pleaded guilty to actual bodily harm and common assault at Luton Crown Court on Thursday.

The incident occured after Allen got down on bended knee in the Job Centre in Leighton Buzzard on September 15 last year and begged Linda Jackson to have him back.

The pair had ended their three year relationship following an argument the day before.

When she declined, he took his anger out on her son who was standing outside.

Prosecutor Adam Pearson said: "He found out she was in the Job Centre and he begged her to take him back, getting down on his knees. She refused and left but he followed and grabbed her arm.

"Her son, Stephen then intervened and made desperate attempts to calm things down but Allen turned on him and punched him in the face.

Penelope Rector, defending said: "He very much regrets what happened, but it was in the context of losing someone who was very important to him and was in something of a state.

"Added to that he had been in the pub and had a drink or two and everything spiraled out of control. All he intended was to beg her to come back to him."

Allen was given a six month prison sentence suspended for a year with 120 hours unpaid work.

He was ordered to pay £1,150 in costs and compensation.

Man attacked as he walked from pub

A MAN was assaulted during an unprovoked attack on his way home from a city pub.

The 23-year-old victim was walking back from the Forresters Arms pub in New Bradwell with his girlfriend at about 9.45pm on Friday when a small red car started beeping the horn at him.

As he crossed Stantonbury Close he turned around and two men got out of the car and punched him twice in the face.

The car, spotted driving around New Bradwell the same evening, is a distinctively-shaped older vehicle, possibly a Fiat or Fiesta.

It was being driven by a woman with blonde hair.

PC Ellie Roberts said: "This was a vicious and unprovoked attack on a man who was minding his own business. The victim was taken to hospital with a blood clot and is still recovering."

Anyone with information should call PC Roberts on 08458 505505.

RESIDENTS CAMPAIGN AGAINST RUGBY CLUB'S PARK 'TAKEOVER'

Rugby boss promises no drunkeness at clubhouse

A RUGBY club says its new facility will not bring drunken louts to Emerson Valley.

As reported previously in MK NEWS, Milton Keynes Rugby Club hopes to build a new facility on parkland on the Emerson Valley estate.

A planning application has been submitted to build the £1m facility, which will include rugby pitches, a 110 space car park, new access roads and a large sports pavilion.

Milton Keynes Council is providing funding for the plans through a section 106 planning agreement.

The facility will include training and playing grounds complete with four adult and two junior pitches.

But some residents believe it will create an eyesore and ruin existing parkland.

Emerson Valley Residents Action Group has been fighting the plans since they were announced in February 2006.

The group fears the development will create traffic, noise and lighting pollution, reduce privacy, turn the park into a mud bath and result in an increase in drunken behaviour due to the presence of a new licensed bar.

Gary Spinks, rugby club chairman, said the members-only bar will not cause such problems.

"Rugby clubs have licensed bars; we have had a bar at Greenleys since 1974," he said.

"We run that successfully and that, in part, funds our facility. This image of drunkenness and rugby clubs is sort of 1970s.

"When MK was a very small place with big spaces between the estates and there weren't many places to go down town the rugby club used to have discos with 1,000 people turning up. We are not looking for that kind of thing, we're a junior club looking for a bar which funds our activities."

He said the site, which has been designated for use as a district sports facility by MK Council, will also be used for other sports, including the local baseball team.

"It is basically a community sports facility where the rugby club would be the prime tenant," he said.

He added: "Milton Keynes is not known as being a rugby town so a lot of the talent that comes to live in Milton Keynes tends to join teams outside of the city.

"One of the things we are hoping to do by improving our facility is to keep our talent in our club, or in Milton Keynes."

He said he hopes local people will work with them to build a facility for the community.

A decision should be made in August or September.

MK shoppers snub farmers' market

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

Lovely grub: Produce on offer at the first farmers' market

THE farmers' market in the Theatre District has stopped trading because of a lack of interest.

Visitor numbers became so poor that some stalls had to give their produce away.

The market started successfully on Good Friday but by May 1, shoppers had decreased dramatically .

The market, which traded on the last Sunday of each month, sold products ranging from hand made fudge and lemon and chocolate brownies to freshly baked bread, pies, speciality meats and freshy picked fruit and veg.

On June 24 shoppers were so thin on the ground that traders handed out their goods to passers by – they unanimously decided not to return to Milton Keynes.

Now the Theatre District and Leigh White from Blueberry House Country Produce, which is responsible for managing this and other markets around the area, are attempting to persuade the traders to return on a quarterly basis for a 'special' farmers' market.

Theatre District marketing manager, Sara Mills, said: "It is a sad day for fresh food lovers throughout Milton Keynes, and on a personal level I will miss the fantastic meats, the wonderful fudge and those delicious hand made brownies.

"Considering the initial outstanding support and general enthusiasm, we have managed to go from the best market the stall holders have ever attended to the worst in only four market days."

Leigh White said: "There were people there but they weren't buying anything. You need the right set of people and I would say the wrong people were there.

"The feedback was that there was no atmosphere in the air in Milton Keynes.

"Farmers markets tend to thrive in traditional market settings, quaint towns.

"We were trying to draw on a new group of customers but we got the impression they weren't into the concept of what a farmers' market is."

New boss at Oakhill

THE city's young offenders institute has appointed a new director to return order and control to the centre.

Former director Lee Barnes left Oakhill Secure Training Centre when it underwent a thorough inspection by the Youth Justice Board after this newspaper revealed how severe staff shortages were causing huge problems.

The man tasked with improving standards is Malcolm Stevens.

The controversial centre, dubbed 'Jokehill' by workers, opened in 2004 and is supposed to cater for 80 children aged 12 to 17.

Over the last eight months youngsters had to be moved on because Oakhill was not considered safe enough and offenders caught a winter vomiting bug from staff who continued working while sick to make up for shortages.

Unannounced inspections by the Commission for Social Care Inspectorate recorded the centre's development as 'poor', confirming concerns raised by the Youth Justice Board regarding levels of order and control.

Mr Stevens said: "We fully support the YJB's aims for Oakhill STC and are committed to working with them to ensure a continuous process of improvements in the standards of care at the centre, and we have increased our investment in staff development and training as part of this process."

Phyllis Starkey, MP for Milton Keynes South West, praised the move.

Dr Starkey said: "I welcome intervention of the Youth Justice Board to ensure that the safety and well-being of both staff and detainees is improved... the current situation is unacceptable.

Edinburgh Fringe show to preview at Madcap

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

AN actress from Ravenstone is to perform at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

Catriona Knox, 23, has joined with two friends from university, Liz Bates and Anna Emerson, to write an all-female comedy sketch show about a small and struggling Russian circus troupe.

The trio, who studied English at Bristol University, are to perform at the Smirnoff Underbelly, Cowgate, in August.

"It is one of the main venues so it is a really great place to be," said Catriona.

"There is so much competition; so many various types of theatre, music and dance.

Ringmaster: Catriona Knox, top, Liz Bates and Anna Emerson

"Hopefully if we get some good reviews at the beginning we will pull in some good crowds."

The show, called Cirque de Sabotage, is an extravaganza of hectic sketches, verbal trickery, leotards and lion-taming, all whipped into shape by The Ringmaster, played by Catriona.

Featuring camels, trapezes, flaming hoops, a dynamic soundtrack, and silly costumes.

The trio has already previewed the show to full houses at London's Canal Cafe Theatre, and is now bringing the performance to Wolverton's Madcap Performing Arts Centre.

Catriona, who now lives in London and will be studying drama at City Lit college in September, hopes this will be her big chance to develop her acting career.

The preview show is on Friday at 8.30pm.

Knifeman stole cigarettes and alcohol

A ROBBER stole cigarettes and alcohol from a city Tesco store after threatening a member of staff with a seven-inch kitchen knife.

Police investigating the robbery at Tesco Express, Oldbrook Boulevard, Oldbrook, on Wednesday, are appealing for customers who witnessed the incident to come forward.

Just after 10pm a man jumped over the counter and threatened a member of staff with the knife, demanding the till be opened.

The member of staff ran away as he tried to smash the till open.

Another offender encouraged the armed man from the entrance of the store as he raided a display behind the counter.

He then jumped back over the counter and both offenders ran off.

Police described the men as white, in their early twenties and both had their t-shirts over the back of their heads.

'What's the point of an anti-social behaviour team that refuses to deal with anti-social behaviour?'

Councillor denied diary sheets

Diary date: Cllr Liz Campbell with Francesca Hill and her daughter Isabel at the park opposite her home in West Bletchley

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura. hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A GROUP of residents formed to tackle anti-social behaviour in West Bletchley says it is receiving little help from local authorities.

Francesca Hill, 25, from West Bletchley, has formed Buckfast Avenue Neighbourhood Watch group after becoming fed up with cars being broken into, and watching local teenagers vandalise the park opposite her house, smashing bottles, drinking, fighting and being noisy.

"My four year-old daughter used to love playing there and so did her friends, but it just got too dangerous," she said.

She said the group, which was set up in May, has already been joined by 14 households on Torre Close, Buckfast Avenue and flats in Buckfast House.

The group approached Denbigh councillor Liz Campbell to express their concerns about the damage that was being done to the park, walls and fences, and nearby garage blocks.

Cllr Campbell said she contacted Milton Keynes Council's anti-social behaviour team, part of the Community Safety Partnership which tackles anti-social behaviour in the city, and asked it to send diary sheets to residents so that they could keep a record of the anti-social behaviour – enabling officers to take action against the perpetrators.

She said her request was refused on the grounds that the team did not accept referrals from local councillors.

"I'm truly appalled by the council's response," she said.

"Local councillors are often the first port of call for residents experiencing anti-social behaviour; it is ridiculous to tell them that they can't request anti-social behaviour diaries.

"What's the point of an anti-social behaviour team that refuses to deal with anti-social behaviour?

"They are letting down some of the city's most vulnerable residents."

Mrs Hill added that she will not give up on her mission to clean up her area, but is mystified by the council's response.

"Why is the council making it so difficult for me to report anti-social behaviour?" she said.

"Is it so that it can keep its statistics on anti-social behaviour artificially low?"

A spokesman for MK Council said diary sheets are only generally issued following referrals from agencies responsible for dealing with cases of anti-social behaviour where other methods have failed.

"Each agency involved in tackling anti-social behaviour has its own specific role to play in dealing with cases effectively," he said.

"For example, noise complaints are handled by the environmental health team, dumping of rubbish by the waste enforcement officers and acts of vandalism by the police.

"We would always advise residents to contact them first."

"Measuring how many diary sheets we've given out is not a measure of how successfully we've tackled anti-social behaviour," he added.

‘Out of date’ care home set to close

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

RELATIVES of residents of a care home for people with advanced dementia were shocked to hear the facility is to be closed.

MHA Care Group is consulting on plans to close Westbury Care Home, Newport Pagnell by July next year.

It has made this announcement alongside the ExtraCare Charitable Trust which is also proposing the closure of Tweed House Nursing Home, Bletchley, which provides care for those with nursing needs.

In a joint statement MHA, ExtraCare and partners MK Council and the Primary Care Trust acknowledged the 20-year-old facilities are out of date.

The partners also say that demand has dropped for the homes as new facilities have opened.

Up to 60 residents could be affected by the closures, and nearly 100 staff could face redundancy.

Helen Palmer, whose mother Eileen Marr, 87, has lived at The Westbury for ten years said it would be upsetting if she has to leave. There is nowhere like the Westbury – the new places are more like hotels and don’t provide the same kind of care,” she said.

“My mother moved there in 1998, and I believe it is because of the wonderful care she receives she is still alive.

“She is still physically OK but cannot feed herself so needs a high level of care.

“The Westbury is also like her own home now.”

She added: “One poor young girl whose mother has only been at The Westbury a month was very upset.

“She has been to various homes that wouldn’t take her mother in because she has advanced dementia and can be violent.

“Finally she found the Westbury, and now she has found out it is closing.”

Milton Keynes PCT senior joint commissioning manager, Jane Hainstock, said the partners could guarantee the displaced residents would be able to find an appropriate home.

“It is with regret that these proposals are necessary and we seek to handle the issue with care and consideration for those involved,” she said, “It is also important that we do not maintain outdated facilities, especially now that older people, some of whom have dementia, can be offered an improved model of care and higher standard of accommodation and facilities elsewhere in MK.”

As part of the planned re-organisation, ExtraCare, which recently opened the Lovat Fields Retirement Villlage, is also seeking to transfer Pagnell Grange Nursing Home, Newport Pagnell, to MHA, securing its long-term future.

Jane Hainstock: Important that we do not maintain outdated facilities, especially now that older people can be offered an improved model of care and higher standard of accommodation and facilities elsewhere in MK

Public given chance to see landfill plans

A PUBLIC exhibition is to outline future plans for the Bletchley landfill site.

The Waste Recycling Group (WRG) is holding the exhibition in July to show local residents how the site, near Newton Longville, is currently operated and explain about future developments.

In particular, the exhibition focuses on the new site entrance opening in September.

The new entrance will connect to the site from the A4146 Stoke Hammond by-pass meaning an end to waste vehicles using the existing site entrance near Newton Longville and south Bletchley.

The exhibition will be held at Newton Longville Free Church, London End (off Bletchley Road), Newton Longville, today and Thursday, from 3pm until 8.30pm, and on Saturday from 9am until midday.

Students go DIY on school build

PUPILS are to get a say on how their new school is designed.

Schoolchildren from Sir Frank Markham School will get the opportunity at a special event tomorrow.

Around 50 students, teachers and parents from the local community will be taking part in a design festival to discuss their ideas for the structure of the new Milton Keynes Academy with a panel of architects.

The design festival will take place at the school and is being organised by the British Council for School Environments (BCSE).

It will involve a series of practical and discussion-based workshops that will look at everything from the design of the classrooms and playgrounds to security issues and the school's identity.

The academy is set to open in autumn 2009 and will replace Sir Frank Markham School. It will be built on part of the current playing fields and new fields will be created on the site of the existing building.

The academy is being sponsored by educational foundation Edge with the aim of providing both practical and academic learning.

John Kerr, development director at Edge, said: "It is very important to us that we involve the pupils from the very beginning. By getting their input through this festival it will encourage them to take ownership and be proud to be a part of the new school."

He added: "This event will give us the opportunity to create a unique academy which pupils will be keen to learn in, teachers will enjoy working in and of which the local community can feel proud."

The Edge philosophy is based on a 'learning by doing' approach with a more flexible curriculum which will include work experience with a wide range of local businesses in Milton Keynes and vocational courses alongside the regular academic subjects.

Credit cards theft netted thief £10,000 in a day

POLICE have released this image of a man suspected of stealing £10,000 using stolen credit cards.

CCTV captured the man at Lloyds TSB Bank in central Milton Keynes on Thursday, May 10.

He made three withdrawals totalling £10,000 and police have linked these to the theft of credit cards taken from Holiday Inn, London Road, Newport Pagnell, on the same day.

The offender is white, aged in his late 30s or early 40s, of medium build and he may be wearing a wig in this photo.

Detectives are appealing for anyone who may have seen him in the area or recognises him to contact PC Julian Kendall on 08458 505505.

Tanzanian students at Stantonbury after school raises cash for visit

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

In step: Tanzanian students from the Ngoni tribe perform Mganda with students from the Stantonbury campus.

STUDENTS from Tanzania are at Stantonbury Campus after the school raised £20,000 to bring them here.

Now the school is looking to raise a further £100,000 so that Stantonbury students can go to Africa and visit their new friends next year.

If they make it across the globe, they will work alongside the Tanzanian pupils on a project to benefit an orphanage in their hometown of Iringa.

The school is hoping local businesses will help them to reach their target.

To bring the African students to Milton Keynes, Stantonbury Campus pupils spent 12 months selling cakes, washing cars, litter picking, pampering people and putting on concerts to raise funds.

They also completed a 20km sponsored walk.

Now they want local businesses to offer their support by donating gifts and services for an auction that will take place this autumn.

Alternatively, they want companies to support different aspects of the project - by donating materials for community projects or by helping with the production and sale of a calendar designed and created by the Tanzanian and Stantonbury students during their visit.

The school will even offer up its taskforce to businesses in return for a donation.

Alongside their fundraising, students will now face a series of challenges including learning Swahili, attending an army course, completing the Duke of Edinburgh award and climbing Kilimanjaro.

Co-organiser Nick Higgins, from Stantonbury Campus, said: "The Tanzania exchange is a major project for all the students who volunteer to participate, involving learning a foreign language, exploring a foreign country and its culture, meeting and befriending its people, climbing one of the most famous mountains in the world, hosting a group of Tanzanian students here in Milton Keynes and raising the funds to make all this happen.

"We hope local businesses will want to be associated with this excellent programme."

Mountain trek for charity grandma

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A CITY grandmother is to trek for nine days to raise funds for a children's hospice.

This autumn Chris Watling, 54, from Eaglestone, will travel to Peru and embark on a trekking challenge across the Andes to the lost city of the Incas, Machu Picchu.

Her aim is to raise over £2,500 for Keech Cottage Children's Hospice, which cares for over 170 children with life-limiting conditions from across Milton Keynes, Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire.

"I've never done anything like this before", said Chris.

"It will be a challenging trek walking for up to ten hours a day, but the scenery promises to be absolutely amazing!"

Chris began training for the trek in March.

"I've borrowed a friend's dog, Henry, to keep me company when I go for longer walks of around six hours at weekends; these will gradually increase to eight hour walks," she said, "I also swim over a mile every Tuesday evening so I'm generally quite fit."

Chris works as an office manager for CS Cleaning, based in Milton Keynes, who have pledged their support and commitment to raising funds for Keech Cottage.

"CS Cleaning has paid for the cost of flights and expenses, so all the money I raise will go directly towards helping Keech Cottage," she added.

"The children's hospice is a wonderful place and makes me feel so thankful to have healthy children."

Keech Cottage Children's Hospice, in Streatley, provides care completely free of charge to those who need it.

The charity needs £2 million each year to run, over 75 per cent of which must to be raised through donations.

Deprived school gets a makeover

Local company's staff and sports stars refurbish classrooms and landscape gardens

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

Sky's the limit: John Salako surrounded by excited Southwood pupils

A FORMER England footballer visited pupils at a deprived school on Friday.

John Salako, now a Sky Sports presenter, joined workers from a city communications company who were donning their 'scruffs' to give the school a facelift.

Newport Pagnell company BI sent 120 of its staff to Southwood School in Conniburrow armed with £15,000 with which to transform it in a day.

Almost half of the pupils are first generation immigrants whose first language is not English.

The message from John Salako, who was joined by MK Lions basketball players, was: 'It's cool to read'.

He came to Britain from Nigeria as a child and his parents taught him the importance of reading and writing in English.

Conniburrow is number 11 on the council's list of estates with the most social difficulties.

The list is based on a number of different indicators, including the number of people on benefit, crime levels, teenage pregnancy, income levels, quality of housing and employment levels.

Now the school, which caters for over 200 seven to 11-year-olds, has a new nature trail, a playground reading area, a mural, newly painted classrooms and landscaped gardens

The school identified these as high priority needs.

The retired footballer showed up as a surprise to pupils, teachers and BI employees.

The 'Changing for Good' project came about after BI staff said they wanted to put something back into the community as part of the company's corporate responsibility policy.

The workers were split into 12 groups of ten, each of which got a budget to develop their part of the project. Any cash they saved was to be donated to the school to spend on the refurbishment of the children's kitchen, a new stage, and on re-equipping the library.

The MK Lions basketball team, including the coach and mascot, spent time reading with the children on a one-to-one basis.

Making a tax-efficient Will now, could save your family many thousands of pounds in the future.

Increasing numbers of people, including homeowners, business people and investors, have assets that will be affected by inheritance tax upon their death.

The rapid rise in house prices mean that more and more people's estates will pay inheritance tax.

Making a will puts you in control and helps you to provide lasting security for those who depend on you. Without a will, those who depend on you financially may receive nothing, or your bequest may be held for them in trust unnecessarily. This can leave your loved ones having to make a claim to the Court for financial provision and unnecessary inheritance tax going to the Inland Revenue.

Nil rate band discretionary trust wills are of particular importance for married couples and offer great scope to mitigate the impact of Inheritance Tax on your Estate. This tax saving arises by the solicitor attempting to ensure that each spouse utilises their own nil rate band allowance, currently £300,000. A correctly drafted and administered will can offer a potential Inheritance Tax saving of £120,000.

We are experienced in advising clients on reducing the liability to tax on their estates, both through lifetime arrangements and under their wills, and in preparing trusts and other documents. We are happy to work with other professional advisors, believing in a 'joined up' approach to achieve the best results for the client.

We have specialist solicitors available at all our offices dealing with wills, ranging from simple wills for individuals and married couples to more complex wills including inheritance tax planning, whatever your circumstances.

Bigging up Ibiza

A SURVEY conducted by Oceana nightclub has revealed customers' clubbing favourites.

The poll of over 1,000 clubbers found that Ibiza was the No 1 resort outside the UK most would choose to visit for the ultimate clubbing experience, with over 62 per cent respondents naming it their top two.

The poll, carried out to launch Oceana's Ibiza Weekender promotion, also revealed customers favourite DJs and all-time club anthems.

Judge Jules topped the poll of favourite DJ's with 45 per cent naming him in their top five. Dave Pearce, DJ Sammy and Roger Sanchez (29 per cent) came in at a close second, third and fourth.

The research has been combined to create a number of club nights in the Icehouse at Oceana that will see the venue transformed into a mini Ibiza every Friday during July and August.

Every Friday customers will also get the chance to win three day clubbing trips to Ibiza and the lucky winners each week get to take a friend as well.

Energy 52's Cafe Del Mar topped the poll as the dance track most clubbers would want to hear on a night out with over 22 per cent naming it in their top five all time classic club anthems.

Other popular choices included William Orbit – Barber's Adagio for Strings, Josh Wink – Higher State of Consciousness, Faithless – Insomnia and Underworld – Born Slippy.

Mark Molton, general manager of Oceana, said: "The poll revealed that Ibiza and everything linked to it including the DJs that play there, the clubs they play in and the tracks they play are extremely popular.

"We have therefore decided to go big this summer by putting on a number of Ibiza-based nights during every Friday in July and August."

"We will also be giving away 'money can't buy' VIP clubbing trips to Ibiza every Friday to give customers the chance of actually experiencing Ibiza for themselves"

The Summer Ibiza Weekender runs every Friday up to and including Friday, August 24.

■ For more information on the Summer Ibiza Weekender contact Mark Molton at Oceana, Milton Keynes or visit www.clubvip.co.uk

FAT CHILDREN PERFECT
Jarvis Cocker

HERE'S a tune about a bloke who gets murdered by some tubby kids for his new mobile phone and it's a very, very good song indeed.

The tune powers along, especially around the chorus, Jarvis is on top form and if it makes the Top 50 it'll be doing amazingly well. Chances are this isn't the sort of song that'll be played on the radio – can you imagine them following the latest listener-friendly pop tunes with some bloke from Sheffield singing 'fat children took my life'?

It doesn't matter how good the tune is (and it does build up beautifully), it's not very likely to happen, is it?

Shame really, because aside from the quite stunning video to Don't Let Him Waste Your Time, this is the best thing Mr Cocker's done in years.

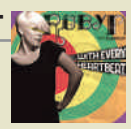
OVERPOWERED
Roisin Murphy

HELLO, looks like this is starting to look like Best Song In Years Week. The last time Ms Murphy did a song as good as this, she was one half of Moloko.

In a strange twist of fate, the song concerned (The Time Is Now) has been overplayed on Sky Sports so much in recent years that I could quite happily live my entire life without ever hearing it again.

I don't think a similar fate awaits this little number, which is probably a good thing. If you like real musical instruments being employed to carry a tune, this really isn't going to be your cup of tea I'm afraid. It's a mid-tempo song that was probably created almost entirely on a computer, but it'll stick in your head like a pitchfork and that's the main thing.

It's one of those songs I actually remembered after it had finished, and that sort of thing doesn't happen too often. it's good, but it won't appeal to everyone, it's probably a bit slower than you might expect it to be. However, I like it and as this is my column, I get the final say.



WITH EVERY HEARTBEAT
Robyn

DO you know something, this could be a really good song when it's finished.

It keeps building up gradually, only to come to a grinding halt, then it builds up again and then finishes, and when it ended my first thought was, 'where's the rest of the song?'. What there is isn't rubbish, Robyn does what she can with the fairly limited lyrical content, and the tune keeps threatening to do something more, but it never does.

Feist

OH great, just what I need. An unashamedly happy song coming along to try and put a little sunshine into my cold, blackened heart. Banjos, trumpets, a big finish, all the usual ingredients you'd expect to find on a happy-clappy song, except this actually works.

A cheerful single that doesn't make me want to throw up. The song's good, but the video is nothing short of amazing. The whole thing's done in one shot with loads of dancers and any trickery is purely optical. All in all, one hell of a nice surprise.

SCHOOL ARTS

AS part of its wide-ranging educational programme, Milton Keynes Gallery partnered the newly formed Friends of Knowles Junior School, Bletchley, and BEST (Behaviour and Education Support Team), to support the school's Art Week.

The project enabled families to experience an enjoyable cultural exchange through art and was made possible with a grant from The Community Foundation, secured by a joint application from Milton Keynes Gallery and the Friends of Knowles School.

Six families from Knowles Junior School families (comprising a parent or grandparent/guardian and child) started by visiting Milton Keynes Gallery for a half day where the gallery's education team helped them explore work in the Stephen Willats exhibition.

Back at school, guided by artist Katy Howkins, they developed their own artwork, inspired by Stephen Willats' practice.

Willats' enables different members of a community to explore a single journey, and record their multiple view points, bringing the results together in work which combines the use of text, photography and video.

The participating families were then given a set route to follow around Bletchley and invited to collect and record things they noticed in their environment along the way, using a combination of cameras, video cameras and sketch books.

Once back in school the groups compared their journey's and made them into a large scale map of Bletchley, drawn from their memories.

The final artwork comprised a 3-D fantasy Bletchley, with each family making a house that might represent a real or fantasy environment, inspired by their walks, and the memory map of Bletchley.

The fantasy Bletchley took pride of place at the school's Strawberry Fair, held on Saturday, July 7.

Natalie Walton, Milton Keynes Gallery's Head of Education said: "The aims of the project have been twofold; to provide parents or guardians with an enjoyable opportunity to experience art making together, and to benefit the school in the longer term by engaging parents, grandparents and guardians with the life of the school, especially through the newly formed Friends of Knowles Junior School which emerged as a result of this project."

PARKLIFE

The Temple at Willen

Dig for victory – it's bloomin' luvverly

STAND by your flower beds, hanging baskets, ponds and vegetable patches!

This year's Britain in Bloom judging panel is visiting Milton Keynes on Thursday, July 26 to examine Milton Keynes' bid to win the prestigious award of Best Large City in the nationwide competition.

The Parks Trust and the Council are convinced that Milton Keynes truly deserves to do even better than last year, when the city won a silver gilt award and was named Best Large City in the Thames and Chiltern's region.

This year the city is going all out for winning national acclaim and wants the residents of Milton Keynes who care passionately about the parks, green space and gardens to help secure this year's medal.

The judges will be examining floral displays, permanent landscaping, community involvement, cleanliness and sustainability.

David Foster, chief executive at The Parks Trust, said: "Britain in Bloom is a great way to show the rest of the world what truly magnificent parks, green space and gardens Milton Keynes has.

"We take great pride in caring for our parks and we want local residents to share our passion and commitment to making Milton Keynes a great place to live."

This year's judging route takes in Campbell Park, the Church Public Gardens, Linford Wood, Newport Pagnell, Milton Keynes Village, Willen Lake, the Hanson Centre, Caldecotte Business Park and the Open University. Plus many of the city's grid roads, including sections of the H3, H10, V6, V7, V8, V10 and V11.

If you're on the judging route there are a range of ways you can help to convince the judges that Milton Keynes is one of the country's greenest cities and worthy of an award:

Even after the competition is over you can help The Parks Trust by joining our regular working parties, helping out at events or becoming a 'rover ranger'.

See the volunteers' area of our website www.theparkstrust.com for full details or pick up a copy of our events calendar from your local library.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

- Help us keep the parks, open spaces and landscaped areas along the main roads as litter and graffiti free as possible.
- Ensure you're showing your garden off at its very best. Even if you're not on the route looking at a beautiful garden makes everyone feel better.
- Don't forget to water and feed your hanging baskets and containers in advance of the visit.
- If you're out and about on July 26 and meet the judges let them know about the parts of Milton Keynes that are special to you.

SLUG AND LETTUCE
Theatre District
01908 395147
Reviewed by Alicia Babaee

SLUG and Lettuce has arrived in the Theatre District.

Situated in the round building formerly leased to the Hogshead, a spruce up has done wonders for this venue.

Gone are the sports screens and pool tables from the days of old, now replaced with stylish leather and wooden decor in natural shades as the bar tries to capture an older, more upmarket crowd.

The menu is suitable for most occasions, be it breakfasts, lunches, or dinner dates, pre-theatre meals or snacks and drinks with friends.

To start, my colleague and I shared tiger prawn skewers with red peppers and spring onion, served with a mixed salad and a Thai dipping sauce (£4.95), and homemade crispy potato wedges with sour cream and sweet chilli dips (£3.95).

We thought the prawns were rather plain, but you don't get wedges much better than Slug and Lettuce's.

For the main course, I opted for the chicken, butter bean and pesto salad in the baby size (£5.45 or £8.45 for a larger portion). I wouldn't normally choose a salad, but this one was full of flavour and I'd choose it again.

My colleague had salmon and spinach risotto (£8.25), which she really enjoyed. The service was anything but sluggish.

Other options on the menu included a tempting sharing plates such as the slug platter including chicken tikka sticks, crispy potato wedges, garlic bread, wasabi tempura vegetables, sun-dried tomato & mozzarella crostini and dips (£10.95) and a sharing cheese plate (£6.25).

There are also burgers, sandwiches, wraps and flatbreads, and pub classics such as sausage and mash and steak pie.

The desserts included hot chocolate puddle pudding and carrot cake (both £3.95).

A range of offers make a visit to Slug and Lettuce a must. Enjoy happy hour on their extensive cocktail menu from 5pm until 8pm Monday to Thursday, and on the sharing platters which are reduced by a third during the same time period.

There's a DJ on Saturday nights.

Delivering on health and safety

AN outstanding drive on health and safety has won national acclaim for employees at Milton Keynes-based express delivery giant TNT.

TNT Express Services, at Northfield Drive, Northfield, picked up the coveted Safety in Operation Award at the Motor Transport Awards 2007 - the Oscars of the UK transport industry for its safety-conscious approach both out on Britain's roads and also in its nationwide network of depots, hubs and offices.

Judges praised TNT's approach over the past two years which has resulted in a 10 per cent reduction in vehicle collisions along with a Fleet Safety Audit rating where at least 85 per cent of all TNT locations achieved a 'four star plus' grading.

This year's achievement boosts TNT's number of Motor Transport Awards to 24 over the past 21 years – a peerless performance unmatched by any other organisation.

Judges were impressed with TNT's use of advanced computer training programmes to further improve the performance of its drivers. The RoadRISK software was highlighted for helping improve safety, drivers' hazard perception and defensive driving techniques.

In addition, the judging panel remarked on an excellent performance in significantly reducing the top 10 identified safety risks throughout the company, resulting in a £1.33m cost saving since 2005.

TNT's work in the field of corporate social responsibility was also singled out for special mention. The judges were impressed by road safety educational programmes, delivered by TNT safety experts, who help teach thousands of schoolchildren to be alert to the dangers of cycling near HGVs.

Malcolm Maples, Milton Keynes Depot general manager, said: "Independent recognition from prestigious events such as the Motor Transport Awards is always valuable. It endorses our continuous drive for improvement in all that we do and confirms that we are conducting our business in the right fashion.

Neil Griffiths, TNT's director of health, safety and environmental, added: "Our drivers, in particular, deserve to be congratulated on consistently excellent performances. Considering they travel the equivalent to many times around the world every year, our reduction in accidents is very satisfying. It is a testimony to them that we rank as one of the most safety conscious companies in the UK today."

On-the-job work search is costing firms millions

JOB seeking Brits are costing UK businesses more than £5 billion in lost wages each year according to new research.

More than half of workers admit to searching for other jobs when they should be working, spending on average half and hour each week scouring the ads.

That's more than three working days of each year spent looking for other jobs, according to the survey by video recruitment www.jobs2view.com

But its not just company time Brits use to hunt for that next career step - 48 per cent use their work's internet while a third of the 2,000 workers polled have used an office telephone to enquire about a job.

A cheeky 21 per cent have even filled out a job application form while sat at their desk.

More than a third say boredom drives their worktime job hunting but 37 per cent say their job annoys them so much they just start looking there and then out of anger.

A brave 8 per cent are risking losing their jobs anyway as 8 per cent say their boss would fire them if they got caught looking for another job.

An understanding 50 per cent of bosses would be more worried about finding out why their employees are so desperate to find a new role while one in five workers don't think their boss would care if they were looking for something else.

But the sneaking around doesn't stop after the application form has been sent off - as 28 per cent have lied to their boss about getting time offf work for a job interview. More than one in ten pull a sickie while a sneaky 16 per cent say they have a doctors or a dentist appointment.

Only 17 per cent are honest and tell their boss the real reason for needing the time off, booking a days holiday to cover the interview.

Not everyone gets away with going behind their bosses backthough as three per cent of Brits have been spotted by their boss looking for another role while at work. Another one in 20 have beeen caught lying to their boss about going for an interview - with 4 per cent saying their sneaking around got them sacked.

Jon Glas, managing director for www.jobs2view.com said: "It's very brazen of Brits to be looking for jobs in their company time and it must be worrying for employers to find out how much time their workers spend job hunting.

"But people need to be careful they don't upset their current employers and harm their job prospects in the process.

"Everyone goes through stages where they think about moving jobs but maybe its better to do the job hunting in your own time and keep on the right side of your boss - you never know when you might need a good reference."

Bray and Brickhill stay tied at the top

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MORRANTS FOUR COUNTIES LEAGUE

DIVISION ONE

A TOP of the table clash between Eaton Bray and Great Brickhill resulted in a frustrating draw, which leaves them tied on points in first.

Eaton Bray's Paul Harris fell one run short of a century as Lee Beardon supported with an unbeaten knock of 35 to help them set a target of 246.

John Cooke led the reply as he smashed his way to 84 not out and despite Garry Ellerton claiming 3-44, Brickhill reached 232-8 and claimed 13 points for the draw.

MENTMORE drew their fifth game of the season but still remain in bottom place.

Cublington were dismissed for 225 and would have been in a worse position had Pip Webb not added 109 to the scoreboard.

In response, Mentmore remained stubborn with Howard Sayers posting 66 runs, as they finished their innings 175-7 and earned 12 points while Cublington took 17.

MILTON Keynes fell 12 runs short of their set target as the were condemned to their seventh defeat.

Fenton Price top scored for Winslow Town with 41 as they fell for a lowly 131 runs.

But their bowlers were up to scratch as they dismissed the MK side for 119, the win gave Winslow 30 points and they sit in sixth place.

MK are 36 points afloat from third from bottom Newport Pagnell.

DESPITE setting a massive 289 target North Crawley still lost out to New Bradwell.

Youngster Alex Walker hit an unbeaten 135, from 113 balls, to help Crawley build a strong innings.

Bradwell slowly chased down the target and with ten overs left in their innings they were still 90 runs short.

James McMillan was the Bradwell hero as he smashed 57 not out, including a massive six in the final over to secure victory.

IN another low scoring game MK City beat local rivals Newport Pagnell by four wickets.

Newport reached 184-7 at the end of their innings, with John Braddy leading the scoreboard with 31 runs.

Abid Hussain's unbeaten 44 teamed up with Russ Heady's 36 helped City reach 185-6 as they claimed 25 points for the win.

DIVISION TWO

OLNEY Town moved back up to third place with a 133 run victory against Eddlesborough, it was Olney's Stuart Keeping who starred in the game as he racked up 130 runs and helped earn his side 30 points.

OLD Bradwell pushed up to fourth place after Gary Meagram smashed 127 runs to their 286 total, and Soulbury crumbled in the reply as they were dismissed for 159.

TURVEY missed out on a vital victory as they fell one run short of Studham's total.

After setting 133 for Turvey to chase, the Studham bowler Carl Smith got to work as he claimed 8-41 and stopped Turvey's chances of moving away from the foot of the table.

TRING Park closed Aspley Guise's lead at the top as they took 16 points from the sides draw.

Tring finished their innings on 167-8, but Aspley Guise fell short of the total at 133-8 and are now just three points clear at the top.

DIVISION THREE

SHENLEY Church End went to the top of the table as they thrashed New Bradwell by eight wickets.

They were given the chance to move up the table as the Open University crashed to their second defeat, losing to Milton Bryan by seven wickets.

BIDDENHAM took 20 points from their draw with Caddington, while Drayton Parslow remain mid-table after their six wicket win at Steeple Claydon.

EATON Bray and Eggington shared the points from their draw and they remain in seventh and eighth place respectively.

DIVISION FOUR

NORTH Crawley edged further ahead at the top after their 150 run win against Willen, who remain in second place.

GREAT Brickhill's 120 run victory against Harlington closes the gap between the two teams to just 15 points, while Milton Keynes climbed away from the bottom with their draw against fourth placed Stoke Hammond.

Whitchurch are now sitting in third after they took 30 points from their 57 run win against Old Bradwell.

For the first time this season Old Bradwell sit at the foot of the table as Cranfield University beat Tottenhoe by three runs and claimed 30 points.

DIVISION FIVE

THE lead of the division is shared between MK City and Printers as both sides won their respective games.

Printers took the points from their 83 run victory against Winslow Town, while City claimed a 64 run win against Olney Town.

THIRD placed Cublington were dealt a shock as they drew with fourth from bottom Little Horwood.

TRING Park missed out on victory against Milton Bryan as they fell 68 runs short of the set total, while Stewkley stay bottom after losing out by five wickets to Wing.

DIVISION SIX

THE gap between first and last was extended as Turvey beat Cubington by 77 runs.

Cubington are now 32 runs adrift at the bottom of the table, while Turvey are joint first place along with North Crawley.

NORTH Crawley missed out on their chance to stay at the top as they dropped points in their draw with Ivinghoe and Pitstone.

ASTON Clinton stay in fifth place after they failed to bowl out MK Park and had to settle for a draw.

CHERWELL LEAGUE

MK Park could only muster 116 all out after being asked to bat at Oxford Downs.

Only four players managed to get to double figures, the best of which was 24 from James Sprittles, as a mixture of poor shots and some good bowling saw the MK outfit struggle.

Despite Mark Roberts dismissing Downs' star batsman Chris Sandbach with the second ball of the home team's innings, Park were always up against it.

Roberts picked up 2-44 from his 10 overs and Sprittles added to his runs with 3-43 from 11 overs.

Overseas star Mark Milligan scored 33 for the home side, receiving good support from Callum Taylor with 27 runs and Downs' skipper Wes Bartlett's 26, to give them victory by four wickets.

NORTHANTS LEAGUE

STONY Stratford got back to winning ways with a five wicket victory against Horton House.

After winning the toss and electing to bat Stony found their first breakthrough with Horton at 49-1.

A batting collapse in the middle order left Horton struggling at 107-6 before Andrew Neate top scored with 41 to help them reach 108 at the end of their innings.

In reply Stony looked in danger as Trevor Wilmot's wicket fell early in the innings, but the side recovered with Dion Ebrahim continuing his impressive form to add 53 runs.

Stony reached the target with five wickets to spare, the win moves them back into fourth place, but still 103 points adrift from top placed Finedon Dolben.

ATHLETICS

Pickering on his way to winning at the Spar European Cup in Munich

Pickering's a two-time loser

FOR the second time in three weeks Craig Pickering suffered defeat in the men's 100 metres, but insists he made the right decision in opting out of the British Grand Prix.

Pickering turned down the chance to run against some of the fastest men in the world, including American Tyson Gay, and instead decided to gain more experience in the European Under-23 Championships in Hungry.

The Milton Keynes runner was named team captain for the event and was expected to face a tough challenge from France's Martial Mbandjock for the title.

But it was fellow Briton Simeon Williamson who caused the upset, both he and Pickering broke the championship record of 10.16 in the final, as he stormed to victory in 10.10 seconds with Pickering trailing in 10.14, a personal best, for the silver medal.

Pickering, who beat Williamson for the European junior title in Lithuania two years ago, said: "He deserves it. There's not very much I could do about that, I did all I could.

"I set a PB so I consider it a very good race."

He added: "Williamson was perfect, he was simply unbeatable."

But the weekend finished in style for the 20-year-old as he lead the relay team to a stunning victory in soaring heat.

The squad of Ryan Scott, Pickering, Rikki Fifton and James Ellington overcame the withdrawal of first pick runners Williamson and Leon Baptiste, who both sustained injuries in the warm up, to take gold in 38.95secs.

The overall championships proved to be a success for Britain, as they finished with six golds, three silvers and two bronze medals, compared to two years ago when Britain were fifth with only three golds.

"The championships are a crucial stepping-stone for our athletes who have their sights firmly set on senior success," said UK Athletics performance director Dave Collins.

"There is some exceptional talent in the team and it was important the youngsters used these championships well against the best in Europe."

When Pickering was asked whether he regretted not running in the British Grand Prix, he said: "No, I came here, learnt a lot and got a gold medal, though not in the event I wanted.

"But I was beaten by a better man. I have no regrets."

MOTOR RACING

Not-so-great expectations for Red Bull boss

RED Bull Racing's team principal has admitted their season so far has 'not matched expectations'.

The Formula One season has reached the half way stage and the team only have six points to their name.

Despite all their experience drivers David Coulthard and Mark Webber have only managed two points positions between them in nine races.

Christian Horner, the man in charge at Red Bull, said: "The RB3 has shown genuine pace, David had a competitive race in Barcelona finishing fifth and Mark got his first point of the season after a solid run to seventh.

"These performances have shown the potential of the car, which has been marred by a depressingly high number of retirements."

It had been hoped that this season would have been a further stepping stone for Red Bull to move closer to the top ranks in the constructors championship, but the cars have struggled on race days with the majority of retirements being linked to the gearbox.

David Coulthard corners at Silverstone

Horner said: "Mechanically, the gearbox itself is fundamentally okay and the problems have stemmed from areas around it.

"Unfortunately, it has not been a case of dealing with just one issue to fix this problem.

"Every aspect of the gearbox has been reviewed and we are aware of the need to get on top of it quickly."

In their last race, the team suffered further heartache when Webber retired after just ten laps and Coulthard struggled for pace in the middle sector.

But Horner believes the torrid time Red Bull have had this season will stand them in good stead, he said: "It might be something of an excuse but we are working with a new engine partner and have a new electronics package this year.

"Next year will be the first time in the short history of our team that we will have continuity of engine supply for more than one season."

This weekend Webber and Coulthard will take to the track again in the Grand Prix of Europe at the Nurburgring where they will hope the two weeks testing have paved way for success.

Horner added: "The commitment demonstrated by everyone in the team has been hugely impressive. We don't have much to show for it at the moment, but with sustained effort and commitment, results will follow."

MK Dons v Chelsea XI

Wednesday, July 18
stadium:mk
Kick-off 7.45pm

IT may only be a ramp-up event, but it is a game most MK Dons fans have been eagerly awaiting...their first game in their glamorous new stadium.

The season-ticket-only game is set to be a chance for the number one Dons fans to test out their chairs, check out the views and get back in to the swing of watching live football.

It will also allow the club to test out the new facilities and get their safety certificates before next weeks game against West Ham United.

And although the Chelsea XI may not be full of the glittering stars that grace the Premiership and Champions League week in, week out, their reserves would certainly hold their own against any top tier side.

The game could be chance for the Dons' first team stars to get their first run out after traillists and academy stars took part against Crawley.

Mark Wright could get his full debut for the Dons, after getting back in to the routine when he feature in the second half against the conference side.

Fans of the reality show Football Icon may recognise defender Sam Hutchinson as one of the Chelsea stars, other names who could feature include Phil Younghusband, Adrian Pettigrew, Jimmy Smith and James Russell.

Mathias said: "Lads are going to progress a little bit quicker than other lads, you can't judge them too strongly.

"What we are pleased about is we've got no injuries, we've come out today and everyone's had some part in the game and they'll benefit from that in the long term."

Abbey, David Navarro and Nick McKoy are just some of the trailists who have been with the squad since Ince took over the squad, but Mathias insists no decision has yet been made on their future with the club.

He said: "We are looking at the boys at the moment, like the other trailists who were on the pitch as well.

"It's an occasion for them to express themselves and obviously try and get the manager to sign them.

He added: "It's early days yet, we are looking at the players and it might take a week, two weeks or three until the gaffer makes a decision on them."

ICE HOCKEY

Lightning sign four

MK Lightning have continued to bolster their side for next year, adding four new signings to the squad.

Lightning have captured the signature of centre Ales Parez alongside the re-signing of Chris McEwen and the promotion of juniors Aidan Mahmud and Danny Chaplen.

Parez joins the side from Elite League's Manchester Phoenix where he was restricted to just 26 appearances after suffering a serious shoulder injury.

The Czech Republic icer has now fully recovered from the injury and player-coach Nick Poole is looking forward to working with his new recruit.

He said: "I am thrilled to bits to be bringing Ales in to our team for next season.

"He will give us a dimension that we have lacked over the years.

"We have always been a skating team and usually dominated games through possession and shots but often lacked end product.

"Ales and our other new import signing Toni have immediately rectified this giving us both size and more importantly skill up front."

Defender McEwen also signed up for his fifth year with the MK icing outfit.

The 24-year-old, known as Macca, joined from Nottingham Lions and has become one of the first names on the team sheet in recent seasons.

Poole admitted McEwen was a player he "always wanted" on his team, he said: "His speed is such a weapon both defensively and offensively.

"He is never caught out of position as he is always able to recover.

"I know Macca is looking forward to being able to focus more on his game this year now that his studies are over. He is a great character to have about and I know the fans will love seeing Macca moving up the ice again this year in full flow."

Youngsters Mahmud and Chaplen are also set to feature in Lightning's plans this season, although both will continue to play in MK Thunder's side.

Poole added: "They are both talented players with great attitudes and most importantly keen to continue developing.

"I am very confident both players will have important roles to play in our success this coming year."

ENGLAND V THE WORLD

Everton goalie Southall pays tribute to Alan Ball

FORMER Everton goalkeeper Neville Southall has paid a fitting tribute to former Goodison Legend Alan Ball ahead of the star-studded international Alan Ball Memorial Cup at MK Dons' stadium:mk on Sunday, July 29..

Southall, who will play in goal for The World against an England XI that will include, amongst others, Paul Merson, Les Ferdinand and Graham Le Saux, said: "As a fellow Evertonian, it is an especial honour to be involved in a tribute to Alan Ball.

"Alan was a great fella whose enthusiasm touched everyone who played with and against him.

"In every game I saw him pull on a shirt, at every club, Alan Ball gave absolutely everything he had.

"I think anyone who plays in the Alan Ball Memorial Cup has a duty to do the same."

Turning his attentions to the game Southall added: "I'm really looking forward to playing against England.

"The last time I think I played against England was at Wembley in what was the Home Nations.

"We lost 2-1, to a late Phil Neal penalty if I remember correctly.

"Let's hope England don't get one late on, not with Le Tissier's record from the spot!"

The Alan Ball Memorial Cup crowns the launch of the Dons' multi-million pound stadium and Milton Keynes' 40th Anniversary.

The latest teams have been unveiled by organisers, set to feature in the England team are: Matt Le Tissier, Les Ferdinand, Graeme Le Saux, Jamie Redknapp, Dave Beasant, Paul Merson, Peter Shilton, Steve Hodge, Paul Parker, Paul Walsh, Kevin Campbell and Alan Ball's son Jimmy Ball will pull on a unique England jersey for the star-studded event.

The World team will include former Italian internationals Toto Schillaci, Giuseppe Signori and Lorenzo Amoruso, Germany's Steffen Freund and Matthias Sammer, Sweden's Martin Dahlin and Pontus Kamark, Scotland's Richard Gough, Wales' Neville Southall and Republic of Ireland striker John Aldridge.

MKSPORTSSHORTS

Willen wonders

THE Willen World Cup took place at the weekend, where 160 teams and more than 1,400 players, aged between 7 and 16, competed for the array of trophies and medals on offer.

The tournament, celebrating its 18th anniversary, is the biggest football competition in North Buckinghamshire.

This year, the Under 11 Plate was won by Willen Juniors Ravens B, after they beat Billing Utd 3-0 in the final, and Willen Juniors Yellows were Under 12 Plate winners, beating Water Eaton Youth Orange 1-0.

Rob Walford, from the tournament sponsor Stratstone Land Rover, said: "The event was a huge success and we were proud to support football talent at this grass roots level."

Willen Juniorsc chairman, Scott Kelman added: "To have Stratstone's support over the weekend was a major boost to the club. It's always great for a local business to get involved in an event such as ours."

Three-legged race

SUPRADIP Dey Roy is targeting a solid finish when he contests the double-header Manx Stars Rally the weekend.

The MK driver and his co-driver Max Hall will return to action in the British Rally Championship Stars 1400 Championship in their 1400cc MG ZR for rounds four and five of the series across the infamous tarmac stages on the Isle of Man.

Roy claimed his first-ever podium as the crew finished third in round three of the championship, the Rally of the Midlands, at the end of June and the pair head into the next two events on the calendar in fourth place overall in the table and third in the FIA class standings.

With both the result from Friday and Saturday counting towards the championship, they will not be taking any chances.

Roy said: "I'm aiming to finish on both days and to get the points.

"I'm going to push harder but with a little bit of caution as it's a double round. I want to get a good clean finish but improve on my result and times.

"I'm looking forward to the rally. I did it last year and really enjoyed it. I feel a bit more confident as I've got some experience across the stages, which are tricky and technical, but it's one of my favourite rallies so hopefully we can have a good run and the weather will stay dry for us."

The Manx Stars Rally will see the crews compete over 100 stage miles in two days and starts from the TT Grandstand in Douglas on Friday morning.

Football will match stadium vows skipper

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

TONIGHT Keith Andrews is hoping to lead out MK Dons against Chelsea XI in their new stadium, but he wishes he was lining up against John Terry!

The Dons had their first run out on the pitch yesterday, as they took part in a two hour training session, and tonight they will play their first 90 minutes in the multi-million pound stadium.

Speaking exclusively to MK NEWS after training, Andrews, who has been given the captain's armband for another year, said: "It was fantastic just to be there and I'm really looking forward to playing there in the first game.

"I can't wait, the National Hockey Stadium served it's purpose, but there's just no comparison.

"The standard and the quality there, it's just outstanding and I'm sure the football will match that."

The Dons midfielder underwent surgery at the end of last season on a troublesome knee and despite a slight twinge in his hamstring last week, he is feeling fit and looking forward to the game, he said: "It's a momentous occasion, it's a big step in the club's history and I'll be very proud to lead the team out.

"It would have be nice to play against the likes of Lampard and Terry, but I'm sure who ever will be playing will be stars of the future and they will be a big test to us."

Dons manager Paul Ince told MK NEWS Andrews will feature in the game, if only for 30 minutes, he said: "Keith will play, he was out a couple of days last week with an injury, I wasn't going to play him, but the lad wants to play, he's desperate to get started and get involved."

Stepover leg lock: Dons skipper Keith Andrews warms up on the pitch in a full training session prior to tonight's game against a Chelsea XI

The team set to take to the turf will be largely made up of first team players, with a few trailist also taking part.

Ince said: "It's going to be mainly the first team with some kids and the likes of Kevin Gallen and Izale McLeod, the regulars."

The game will give Ince a chance to look at the first team regulars for the first time in match conditions, and the Dons boss admitted he is yet to decide who his perfect eleven are.

He said: "We've got a lot of players here, we have the nucleus of the squad, it's just finding the addition of four or five players.

"The majority of the squad are there, but in terms of a final 11, I have no idea.

"They are all fighting for places and that goes all over the pitch."

Despite rumours of a Charlton medical, McLeod did attend the training session and has been told by Ince, unless a club comes in for the right price, he is an MK Dons player.

Dons fail to impress in Crawley draw

MK Dons kicked off their pre-season with a less than impressive goalless draw against Crawley Town.

But Dons assistant manager Ray Mathias insists that neither the result nor the performance mattered.

He said: "We're not looking at results at this time of the season, we've said that before, I think it's the overall fitness of the lads are getting from the games.

The Dons side was largely unrecognisable as Paul Ince opted for a mix of first squad fringe players and traillists, in his first game in charge.

With Crawley also running with a majority of new players the game failed to kick in to thrid gear as both sides struggled to work they way into the match.

Mathias added: "We've introduced quite a few traillists, they've done okay, it was a good work out for everybody and that was the pleasing thing about the game.

"Some of the lads have had 90 minutes, others have had 45. It's another step in the right direction and we'll continue to achieve full fitness before the season starts."

With chances limited, the most memorable moment of the game was for all the wrong reasons when Nathan Abbey slipped up in his 45 minutes to impress.

The former Brentford 'keeper came running off his line to stop Magno Viera's chance on goal, but the decision back fired as Viera met the rebound with an empty goal as his target.

To Abbey's relief the moment was too much for the Crawley striker as he shot his effort wide from the edge of the area.

It was a glairing reply of last season's howler against Shrewsbury when former 'keeper Lee Harper was punished by Derek Asamoah as he took advantage of Harper's error in a game the Shrews went on to win.
